

Unseen Frequencies
By Lord RaShango Adamah Khan

This is an Audio Dream, it is like lucid dreaming or watching a movie or reading a book with your eyes closed through musical interpretation. It is intended to be a form of guided meditation only by the transition of each song and reading the script first. Before you begin, ensure you are in a safe, quiet place, where you will not be disturbed for a few hours. It is ideal to use noise canceling headphones, and to choose a time preferably during midnight and 5am when everyone is asleep so as not to be distracted and to complete the entire session in one uninterrupted set. Even if the rhythms or sound themes seem strange or unusual or don't seem to follow one another, keep it going and adapt to the change. At the end of each session record what you saw and how it made you feel.

1.Unseen Frequencies

You Travel within a space to see what is not seen...relaxing..you are drawn in to a sense of peace...

2.Inertia

...In The Stillness you realize no form but motion...endless motion standing still...you are an atom...protons, neutrons and electrons...picking up speed and taking on matter...

3.Thetan Resonance

you Become this thought of Stillness... formed into matter you are radiant and focused...

you begin to move slowly out of your stationary motion into a particular direction guided by your thoughts...

4.Gravity

your mind is heavy...it begins to descend down into an earthly thought plane of material inferences...once unseen you now begin to manifest into an electromagnetic form...

5. Sigmacism

knowing self in form you study the cosmic states of existence and gain insight....you contemplate, formulate, and master the elements...

6.Transparent Virtuosity

you are a song... a song of light...you enjoy physical form but not the weight of materialism, so you bind together the thresholds of light and matter... you are a being of light...transparent...vibrating on a celestial harmonic tuned in to the beginnings before first laws...

7.The Gamma Bond

you contain the instability and volatility of the energy you have generated...you implode what would be an infinite cataclysm you go within and bond together with your spirit the very essence of the cosmos and all the origins of reality...

8.Thunder and Aether

Residuals of the internal chaos spill over into the aethers...you have reached the heights of consciousness...you are one with the cosmic storm...you are manifest as thunder and aether..

9. Internal Fire

You feel the rage of realms of stars burning inside of you...you empathize with myriads of beings all across the realms...you experience desire..this desire transforms you into a being of flesh, blood, and bone... but the fire is not quenched... it rages internally and specifically...for its polar opposite...

10. The Equity of Intimacy

the flame of your heart is cooled by the passions of another and they intermingle in mind body and spirit...you vibrate in the balance and resonate in the equity of an intimate existence of an eternal moment...

11. L.A.T.I.T.U.D.E.S.(luminous auspicious transcendence intermittent thought universal divine energy source) You tap the core..you radiate in the divine essence of God Consciousness Supreme...Oneness...Awareness...Enlightenment...

12. The Irrelevancy of Time

realizing the all in all and all that you are, you have no boundaries or borders of thought in the pure infinity of being...you hear the sage affirm in the heavens of your existence:

“Time Is Irrelevant There Is Only The Compassion Of The Random Abstract”
